

OHIO SCHOLARSHIP WORLDWIDE

OhioLINK ETD Center

etd.ohiolink.edu

Since 2001, the OhioLINK Electronic Theses and Dissertations (ETD) Center has been the open access central submission and repository data base for theses and dissertations produced by student authors from 30 universities and colleges in the state of Ohio. In that time, the Center:

has amassed a collection of over 50,000 electronic theses and dissertations has worldwide total downloads of over 25 million was the basis for the first ETD consortium established in the United States in 2006, which includes members from every major university in the state established standards and policies based on input from library and Graduate School staff, students, and faculty for document submission and management as well as long term ETD preservation

Open Access Week 2015

The OhioLINK ETD Center wants to invite everyone to participate in Open Access Week from October 19-25, 2015.

The theme is “Open for Collaboration”.

Open Access Week is an international event that helps to promote the exposure and use of scholarly research for the advancement of academia, science, industry, and society as a whole.

Consult www.openaccessweek.org for more information about events.
